THE OMRI NURI PROJECT
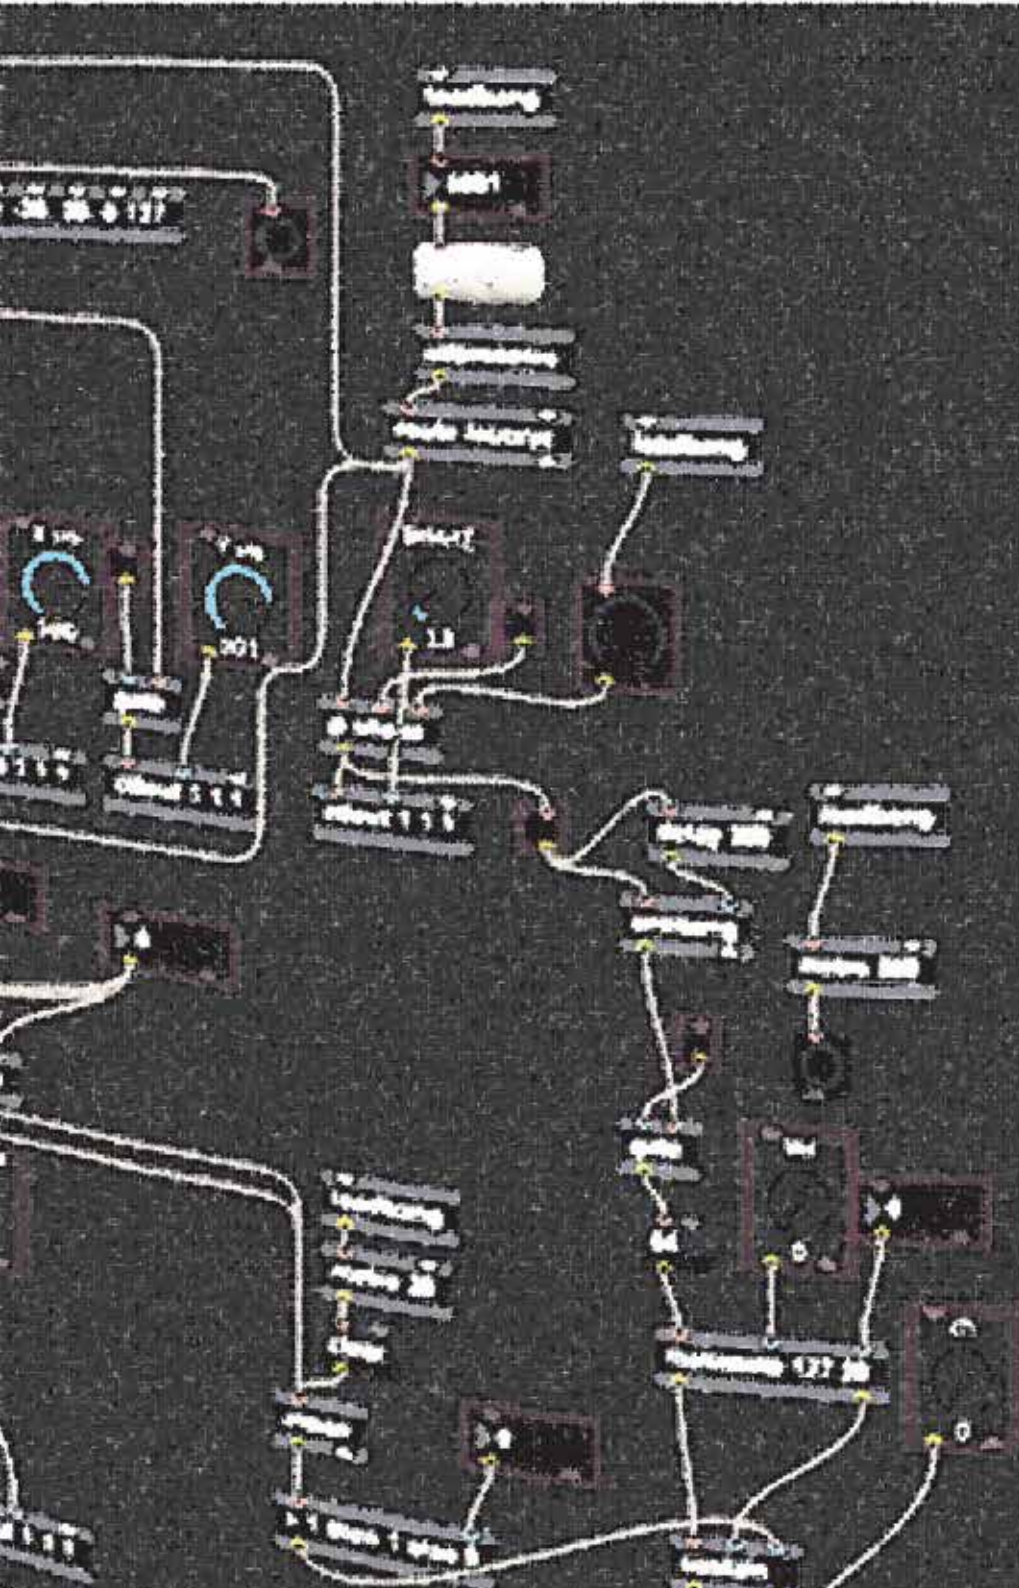

THE OMRI NURI PROJECT

The Omri Nuri Project is a unique experience of interactive music .
With the use of technology, the project tries to brake the barriers between the audience and the band, converting the space into a collective concert.
This is a show where the audience participates, creates, improvises and composes with the musicians.
How? With their smartphones.

INTERACTIVE MUSIC

Interactive shows propose a conversation, permiting the audience to be a part of the process of composition live.

Today, technology brings us an infinite amount of new tools for creation, and new ways to comunicate ideas.

We can see more and more artistic projects that use technology to create a more immersive experience.

BIOGRAPHY

The Omri Nuri Project was created in 2018 byOmri Nuri, saxophonist and programmer. Currently the project consists of Gabriela Tarnawiecki on interactive visuales, Albor Debernardi as a guide, and Omri Nuri in saxophone and programming. Each concert has a different invited musician.
